Jenny Hole (Sloughs WMA) Waterfowl Hunting Assignment Process

This season, due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, there will be significant changes in how waterfowl hunting dates and units at the Jenny Hole at Sloughs Wildlife Management Area (WMA) are determined.

To help maintain social distancing and to ensure the health and safety of hunters and Kentucky Fish and Wildlife staff, the department will not conduct in-person drawings for waterfowl hunting at the Jenny Hole for the 2020-2021 season. Instead, the department will fill spaces through weekly online-only drawings. Standby spots for Duncan and Crenshaw Units will not be available for the 2020-2021 season.

The application period is the week before you want to hunt. Applications are accepted Wednesday through Sunday. Random drawings for hunts and locations will then occur the following Monday. Spots for December 7, 2020; a single day hunt, will be assigned during the Thanksgiving week drawing.

Each Monday drawing will determine hunters and locations for the following Thursday through Monday. Remember, boats are necessary to access the hunting opportunity in the Jenny Hole.

Application Rules:

- You must have the necessary license and permit needed for waterfowl hunting when you apply.
- You must be at least 18 years old.
- You cannot apply if you were cited for waterfowl hunting violations on a waterfowl quota hunt the previous season.

How to apply:

- Go to Kentucky Fish and Wildlife's online application page at app.fw.ky.gov/huntdraw. (This page will not appear until applications are being taken).
- Enter your last name, date of birth and last four digits of your social security number.
- Apply individually; you may take up to three guests.

- On Monday night, go online to fw.ky.gov and check the “My Profile” tab to see if you were selected, and your hunting location. Download and print a copy of your check-in and check-out cards.

Each hunter selected will be able to hunt the Jenny Hole for five consecutive days (Thursday-Monday). Exceptions to this being Thanksgiving week (four days only), December 7 (one day only) and the last week (four days only). Each drawn hunter will be assigned one of the three hunt units at the Jenny Hole. You will be assigned either the Timber Unit, Little Jenny Unit or Fishtrap Unit. You must hunt within that unit all week.

The Day of your Hunt:

- Do not enter the area before 4:00 a.m. (Central time).
- Drop your check-in card in one of the designated drop box locations.
- Carry your check-out card and hunting permit with you.
- You must hunt in your assigned unit.
- You may take up to three guests. The guests you take may change each day but the drawn hunter must always be present.
- Maintain proper social distancing while hunting.
- Stop hunting and leave the area by 2 p.m. (Central).
- Before leaving, drop your check-out card in a designated drop box.
- Remember to follow all normal rules pertaining to hunts at the Jenny Hole.
